

Requests for Proposals ~ Learning Pathway for Implementing the Common Core State
Standards for Mathematics

The CCSSM provide a conceptual framework that necessitates a change in content understanding, pedagogy, and assessment. To that end, the district will continue to utilize the following collaborative inquiry-based design methodology as its primary means for transforming teaching and learning.

To effectively change instructional practice and ensure quality implementation, the district's infrastructure of support will include: on-going professional learning opportunities for both teachers and principals utilizing the design methodology; job-embedded coaching; and teacher collaboration.

- Building on the foundation that is being laid now, the professional learning must center on the three key components of the CCSSM, which are the practices, shifts, and content as outlined in the table.
